

Stars of Game of Thrones, Fleabag and Homeland read 50 new audiobooks of the world famous Penguin Classics

On 26th September, Penguin Random House is launching a new series of audiobooks of the world-renowned Penguin Classics. For the first time, these titles are totally unabridged in audio and include the highly regarded introductions from the print editions. The series will comprise fifty works and will be released simultaneously. They have been performed by some the UK's best-known actors. The fifty narrators include Fleabag actors Sian Clifford (Tess of the D'Urbervilles) and Andrew Scott (Dubliners); Game of Thrones' Natalie Dormer (A Room of One's Own) and star of Homeland David Harewood (The War of the Worlds).

The ambitious casting will bring new audiences to these works from iconic authors such as Jane Austen, Charlotte Brontë and Franz Kafka as well as lesser-known titles published for the first time in audio, including The Wonderful Adventure of Nils Holgersson by Selma Lagerlöf, read by Horrible Histories actor Mathew Baynton and The Yellow Wallpaper by Charlotte Perkins Gilman, read by Sheila Atim, Jamael Westman and Jessica Brown Findlay. The title selection includes one of the surprise bestsellers of recent years – Marcus Aurelius' Meditations will likely sell over 100,000 copies this year in print alone and now can reach an even wider audience in its audio edition, read by Richard Armitage (The Hobbit).

David Harewood (Homeland and Westworld), said:

'It's been such a wonderful pleasure reading H. G. Wells' War of the Worlds. The imagination and detail of the piece is extraordinary and bringing it to life has been a career highlight.'

Gemma Whelan (Game of Thrones) said:

'North and South is a tour de force - a novel with a political and social conscience, written by a woman who was completely ahead of her time. Narrating this story was a fantastic experience and I'm thrilled at the thought that it will reach a whole new audience.'

Audiobooks are enjoying a huge boom in popularity with sales increasing by 43% year on year in 2018 and it's estimated that nearly 10% of the UK population are listening to audiobooks regularly*.

Penguin Random House Audio Publisher, Richard Lennon, says:

'With this collection our aim is to bring these classic texts to life for an audience for whom listening, rather than reading, is the default way to consume stories and ideas. By pairing these classic works with a diverse range of modern acting talent we want to encourage more people to enjoy these beautifully read, unabridged editions.'

Penguin Classics Brand Director, Sam Voulters, says:

'We want to give classics readers every opportunity to discover books to fall in love with. Now these fifty magnificent audiobooks will stand alongside the paperback Penguin Classics as the best editions available.'

Other narrators include Blake Harrison (Inbetweeners), Jessie Buckley (War and Peace), George Blagden (Versailles), Ben Barnes (Westworld) and bestselling author Jeanette Winterson.

Andrew Scott (Fleabag) reading Dubliners said:

'These stories are absolutely stunning. Heartbreaking, funny and exquisitely human. I love the idea that people can be immersed in these extraordinary characters on their way to work, and as a Dubliner myself, I'm very proud to be associated with this project, and with this true genius of a writer.'

Available to download from Audible, Apple Books and Google, the Penguin Classics audiobooks can be preordered now.

ABOUT PENGUIN CLASSICS AUDIO

About Penguin Classics: Penguin Classics is geographically and chronologically the largest library of classic literature ever published, originally launched in 1946 with E.V. Rieu's translation of The Odyssey. The launch of Penguin Classics in Audio follows a global 'Happy Reading' campaign celebrating the dog-eared and weathered books from readers' collections and, in March, the first ever Penguin Classics pop-up shop in London.

About Penguin Random House Audio: Penguin Random House Audio is the UK's leading publisher of audiobooks. We bring together our amazing authors and the world's very best acting talent to create exceptional listening experiences from the finest stories and ideas for adults to entertainment and education for children and families. Penguin Random House Audio have won awards including the British Book Award: Audiobook of the Year in 2019 and 2018 for Becoming written and narrated by Michelle Obama and The Book of Dust by Phillip Pullman, narrated by Michael Sheen, respectively.

One of the many joys of audiobooks is their accessibility and the ability to listen wherever you are. They can transform a commute, keep you motivated on a long run or simply distract you whilst doing the household chores. For example:

- North and South narrated by Gemma Whelan will keep you entertained for a whole month of hourlong commutes. (28 hours)
- Andrew Scott reading Dubliners would last for over 26 Parkruns.
- The average Brit spends 4 hours a week in the kitchen, so listening to Villette read by Charlotte Ritchie, could keep you entertained for 8 whole weeks of cooking
- Brits spend a year and a half on housework during the average lifetime why not listen to the Penguin Classics canon to distract you from your chores!
